Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

Indenture and Notes

On January 12, 2023, Live Nation Entertainment, Inc. (the “Company”) closed its previously announced offering of $1.0 billion principal amount of 3.125% Convertible Senior Notes due 2029 (the “Notes”). The Notes were issued pursuant to an indenture (the “Indenture”) dated as of January 12, 2023 between the Company and HSBC Bank USA, National Association, as trustee (the “Trustee”).

In connection therewith, on January 9, 2023, the Company entered into a purchase agreement (the “Purchase Agreement”) with certain initial purchasers (the “Initial Purchasers”) agreeing, subject to customary conditions, to issue and sell the Notes to the Initial Purchasers. Pursuant to the Purchase Agreement, the Company granted the Initial Purchasers an option to purchase, for settlement within a period of 13 days from, and including, January 12, 2023, up to an additional $100.0 million principal amount of Notes. On January 10, 2023, the Initial Purchasers informed the Company that they were exercising their option to purchase the additional $100.0 million of Notes. The Notes issued on January 12, 2023 include $100.00 million principal amount of Notes issued pursuant to the full exercise by the initial purchasers of such option.

After payment of the cost of entering into the capped call transactions described below, the use of approximately $489.3 million of the net proceeds from the Notes offering to repurchase approximately $440.0 million aggregate principal amount of its 2.5% convertible senior notes due 2023 and the payment of fees and expenses, the Company intends to use the remaining proceeds from the Notes offering for general corporate purposes, which may include the repayment or repurchase of certain of the Company’s outstanding indebtedness.

The Notes will be the Company’s senior, unsecured obligations and will be (i) equal in right of payment to the rights of creditors under the Company’s other existing and future unsecured unsubordinated indebtedness; (ii) senior in right of payment to the rights of creditors under indebtedness expressly subordinated to the Notes; (iii) effectively subordinated to the Company’s existing and future secured indebtedness, to the extent of the value of the collateral securing that indebtedness; and (iv) structurally subordinated to all existing and future indebtedness and other liabilities, including trade payables, and (to the extent the Company is not a holder thereof) preferred equity, if any, of the Company’s subsidiaries. The Notes will not be guaranteed by any of the Company’s subsidiaries.

The Notes will accrue interest at a rate of 3.125% per annum, payable semi-annually in arrears on January 15 and July 15 of each year, beginning on July 15, 2023. The Notes will mature on January 15, 2029, unless earlier repurchased, redeemed or converted. The Notes are convertible, at a holder’s election, in multiples of $1,000 principal amount, into cash, shares of the Company’s common stock or a combination of cash and shares of the Company’s common stock, with such form of consideration at the Company’s election, based on the applicable conversion rate and only under certain circumstances specified within the Indenture. The initial conversion rate for the Notes is 9.2259 shares of common stock per $1,000 principal amount of Notes (equivalent to an initial conversion price of approximately $108.39 per share of common stock), subject to adjustment as provided in the Indenture. Holders will not receive any cash payment or additional shares representing accrued and unpaid interest upon conversion of a note, except in limited circumstances. Instead, interest will be deemed paid by the cash, shares of the Company’s common stock or the combination of cash and shares of the Company’s common stock paid or delivered, as the case may be, to a holder upon conversion.

The Notes will be redeemable in whole or in part, at the Company’s option, on a redemption date occurring on or after January 21, 2026 and before the 41st scheduled trading day before the maturity date, but only if the last reported sale price per share of the Company’s common stock equals or exceeds 130% of the conversion price (i) each of at least 20 trading days, whether or not consecutive, during the 30 consecutive trading days ending on, and including, the trading day immediately before the date the Company sends the related redemption notice; and (ii) the trading day immediately before the date the Company sends such notice. In addition, calling any Note for redemption will constitute a “Make-Whole Fundamental Change” (as defined in the Indenture) with respect to that Note, in which case the conversion rate applicable to the conversion of that Note will be increased in certain circumstances if it is converted after it is called for redemption.

If certain corporate events that constitute a “Fundamental Change” (as defined in the Indenture) occur, then noteholders may require the Company to repurchase their Notes at a cash repurchase price equal to the principal amount of the Notes to be repurchased plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to, but excluding, the Fundamental Change repurchase date. The definition of Fundamental Change includes certain business combination transactions involving the Company and certain de-listing events with respect to the Company’s common stock.

If an event of default as defined in the Indenture occurs and is continuing (other than specified events of bankruptcy or insolvency with respect to the Company), the trustee or the holders of at least 25% in principal amount of the outstanding Notes may declare all the outstanding Notes to be due and payable immediately. If an event of default relating to specified events of bankruptcy or insolvency with respect to the Company occurs, all the outstanding Notes will immediately become due and payable without any declaration or other act on the part of the trustee or any holders of the Notes.

With the exception of covenants restricting the Company's ability to merge, consolidate or sell substantially all of the Company's assets, the Indenture does not provide for restrictive covenants.

The above description of the Indenture and the Notes is a summary and is not complete. A copy of the Indenture and the form of the certificate representing the Notes will be filed as an exhibit to our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ending March 31, 2023, and the above summary is qualified by reference to the terms of the Indenture and the Notes set forth in such exhibits.

Capped Call Transactions

On January 9, 2023, in connection with the pricing of the Notes, the Company entered into privately negotiated capped call transactions (the "Base Capped Call Transactions") with one or more of the Initial Purchasers or their affiliates and other financial institutions (the "Option Counterparties"). In addition, on January 10, 2023, in connection with the Initial Purchasers' exercise of their option to purchase additional Notes, the Company entered into additional capped call transactions (the "Additional Capped Call Transactions," and, together with the Base Capped Call Transactions, the "Capped Call Transactions") with each of the Option Counterparties. The Capped Call Transactions cover, subject to customary anti-dilution adjustments, the aggregate number of shares of the Company's common stock that initially underlie the Notes, and are expected generally to reduce potential dilution to the Company's common stock upon any conversion of Notes and/or offset any cash payments the Company is required to make in excess of the principal amount of converted Notes, as the case may be, with such reduction and/or offset subject to a cap, based on the cap price of the Capped Call Transactions. The cap price of the Capped Call Transactions is initially $144.52, which represents a premium of 100% over the last reported sale price of the Company's common stock on January 9, 2023. The cost of the Base Capped Call Transactions was approximately $68.0 million. The cost of the Additional Capped Call Transactions was approximately $7.6 million.

The Capped Call Transactions are separate transactions, each between the Company and the applicable Option Counterparty, and are not part of the terms of the Notes and will not affect any holder's rights under the Notes or the Indenture. Holders of the Notes will not have any rights with respect to the Capped Call Transactions.

The above description of the Capped Call Transactions is a summary and is not complete. Copies of the forms of the confirmations for the Capped Call Transactions will be filed as exhibits to our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ending March 31, 2023, and the above summary is qualified by reference to the terms of the confirmations set forth in such exhibits.

Item 2.03 Creation of a Direct Financial Obligation or an Obligation under an Off-Balance Sheet Arrangement of a Registrant.

The information set forth under Item 1.01 "Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement" is incorporated into this Item 2.03 by reference.

Item 3.02 Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities

The information set forth under Item 1.01 is incorporated into this Item 3.02 by reference. The Notes were issued to the Initial Purchasers in reliance on Section 4(a)(2) under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act") in transactions not involving any public offering, and the Initial Purchasers resold the Notes in reliance upon Rule 144A under the Securities Act to persons reasonably believed to be "qualified institutional buyers," as defined therein. Any shares of the Company's common stock that may be issued upon conversion of the Notes will be issued in reliance upon Section 3(a)(9) of the Securities Act as involving an exchange by the Company exclusively with its security holders. Initially, a maximum of 13,838,900 shares of the Company's common stock may be issued upon conversion of the Notes, based on the initial maximum conversion rate of 13.8389 shares of common stock per $1,000 principal amount of Notes, which is subject to customary anti-dilution adjustment provisions.

Item 8.01 Other Events.

On January 9, 2023, the Company issued two press releases, one announcing that it had launched its private offering of Notes and one announcing that it had priced its private offering of Notes. On January 12, 2023, the Company issued a press release announcing that it had closed its private offering of Notes. Copies of these press releases are filed as Exhibits 99.1, 99.2 and 99.3 to this Current Report on Form 8-K and incorporated herein by reference.

LIVE NATION ENTERTAINMENT ANNOUNCES LAUNCH OF CONVERTIBLE SENIOR NOTES OFFERING

LOS ANGELES (January 9, 2023) – Live Nation Entertainment, Inc. (NYSE: LYV) (the “company”) today announced that it intends to offer, subject to market and other conditions, $850.0 million in aggregate principal amount of convertible senior notes due 2029 (the “Convertible Notes”). The company intends to use a portion of the net proceeds from the Convertible Notes offering to fund the cost of entering into the capped call transactions described below. The company intends to use the remainder of the net proceeds from the Convertible Notes offering to effect the repurchase of a portion of its 2.5% convertible senior notes due 2023 (the “existing convertible notes”) in one or more separate and individually negotiated transactions with one or more holders of the existing convertible notes, to pay related fees and expenses and for general corporate purposes, which may include the repayment or repurchase of certain of its outstanding indebtedness.

In connection with the Convertible Notes offering, the company expects to grant the initial purchasers the right to purchase, for settlement within a 13-day period beginning on, and including, the date the Convertible Notes are first issued, up to an additional $85.0 million aggregate principal amount of Convertible Notes. If the initial purchasers exercise their option to purchase additional Convertible Notes, then the company intends to use a portion of the additional net proceeds to fund the cost of entering into additional capped call transactions as described below.

The Convertible Notes will accrue interest payable semi-annually in arrears and will mature on January 15, 2029, unless repurchased, redeemed or converted in accordance with their terms prior to such date. Prior to the close of business on the business day immediately preceding October 15, 2028, the Convertible Notes will be convertible only upon satisfaction of certain conditions and during certain periods; thereafter, the Convertible Notes will be convertible at any time until the close of business on the second scheduled trading day immediately preceding the maturity date. Upon conversion, holders of the Convertible Notes will receive shares of the company's common stock, cash or a combination thereof, at the company's election. Holders of the Convertible Notes will have the right to require the company to repurchase all or a portion of their Convertible Notes at 100% of their principal, plus any accrued and unpaid interest, upon the occurrence of certain corporate events constituting a "fundamental change" as defined in the indenture for the Convertible Notes. The company may not redeem the Convertible Notes prior to January 21, 2026. The company may redeem for cash all or any portion of the Convertible Notes, at its option, on a redemption date occurring on or after January 21, 2026 and before the 41st scheduled trading day before the maturity date, but only if the last reported sale price of the company's common stock has been at least 130% of the conversion price then in effect for a specified period of time. The redemption price will equal 100% of the principal amount of the Convertible Notes to be redeemed, plus any accrued and unpaid interest to, but excluding, the redemption date.

In connection with the pricing of the Convertible Notes, the company expects to enter into privately negotiated capped call transactions with one or more of the initial purchasers or their affiliates and/or other financial institutions (the "option counterparties"). The capped call transactions are expected to initially cover, subject to anti-dilution adjustments substantially similar to those applicable to the Convertible Notes, the number of shares of the company's common stock underlying the Convertible Notes. If the initial purchasers exercise their option to purchase additional Convertible Notes, the company expects to enter into additional capped call transactions with the option counterparties.

The capped call transactions are expected generally to reduce the potential dilution to the company's common stock upon any conversion of the Convertible Notes and/or offset any potential cash payments the company is required to make in excess of the principal amount of converted notes, as the case may be. If, however, the market price per share of the company's common stock, as measured under the terms of the capped call transactions, exceeds the cap price of the capped call transactions, there would nevertheless be dilution and/or there would not be an offset of such potential cash payments, in each case, to the extent that such market price exceeds the cap price of the capped call transactions.

In connection with establishing their initial hedges of the capped call transactions, the option counterparties or their respective affiliates expect to enter into various derivative transactions with respect to the company's common stock and/or purchase shares of the company's common stock concurrently with or shortly after the pricing of the Convertible Notes. This activity could increase (or reduce the size of any decrease in) the market price of the company's common stock or the Convertible Notes at that time.

In addition, the option counterparties or their respective affiliates may modify their hedge positions by entering into or unwinding various derivatives with respect to the company's common stock and/or purchasing or selling shares of the company's common stock or other securities of the company in secondary market transactions following the pricing of the Convertible Notes and prior to the maturity of the Convertible Notes (and (x) are likely to do so during any conversion reference period related to a conversion of the Convertible Notes or following any repurchase of the Convertible Notes by the company in connection with any fundamental change and (y) are likely to do so following any repurchase of the Convertible Notes by the company other than in connection with any fundamental change if the company elects to unwind a corresponding portion of the capped call transactions in connection with such repurchase). This activity could also cause or avoid an increase or decrease in the market price of the company's common stock or the Convertible Notes, which could affect the holders' ability to convert the Convertible Notes and, to the extent the activity occurs following conversion or during any conversion reference period related to a conversion of the Convertible Notes, it could affect the number of shares of the company's common stock and value of the consideration that holders will receive upon conversion of the Convertible Notes.

In connection with the pricing of the Convertible Notes, the company also expects to repurchase the existing convertible notes in one or more separate and individually negotiated transactions with one or more holders of the existing convertible notes. The company expects that holders of the existing convertible notes that sell their existing convertible notes as described above may enter into or unwind various derivatives with respect to the company's common stock (including entering into derivatives with one or more of the initial purchasers in the Convertible Notes offering or their respective affiliates) and/or purchase or sell shares of the company's common stock concurrently with or shortly after the pricing of the Convertible Notes. The repurchase of the existing convertible notes, and the potential related market activities by holders of the existing convertible notes participating in the repurchases, could increase (or reduce the size of any decrease in) or decrease (or reduce the size of any increase in) the market price of the company's common stock, which may affect the trading price of the Convertible Notes at that time and the initial conversion price of the Convertible Notes. The company cannot predict the magnitude of such market activity or the overall effect it will have on the price of the Convertible Notes or its common stock.

The Convertible Notes will be offered through a private placement and will not be registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), or any state securities laws. As a result, the Convertible Notes and any common stock issuable upon conversion of the Convertible Notes may not be offered or sold in the United States except pursuant to an applicable exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act. Accordingly, the Convertible Notes will be offered only to persons reasonably believed to be "qualified institutional buyers" under Rule 144A of the Securities Act. This news release is neither an offer to sell nor a solicitation of an offer to buy the Convertible Notes or any common stock issuable upon conversion of the Convertible Notes, nor shall there be any sale of any securities in any jurisdiction in which such offer, solicitation or sale would be unlawful.

Forward-Looking Statements

This news release contains forward-looking statements, including statements related to the offerings and the expected use of the net proceeds, which are based on current expectations, forecasts and assumptions that involve risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. These risks and uncertainties include, without limitation, risks related to whether the company will consummate the offering of the Convertible Notes on the expected terms, or at all, the anticipated terms of, and the effects of entering into, the capped call transactions described above, market and other general economic conditions, and the fact that the company's management will have discretion in the use of the proceeds from the sale of the Convertible Notes. The company refers you to the documents it files with the Securities and Exchange Commission, specifically the section titled "Item 1A. Risk Factors" of its annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2021, which contains and identifies important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in the company's projections or forward-looking statements. You are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date on which they are made. The company undertakes no obligation to update any forward-looking statement, whether as a result of changes in underlying factors, new information, future events or otherwise.

LIVE NATION ENTERTAINMENT ANNOUNCES PRICING OF UPSIZED CONVERTIBLE SENIOR NOTES OFFERING

LOS ANGELES (January 9, 2023) – Live Nation Entertainment, Inc. (NYSE: LYV) (the “company”) today announced that it priced its previously announced offering of $900.0 million in aggregate principal amount of its 3.125% convertible senior notes due 2029 (the “Convertible Notes”). The offering size was increased from the previously announced offering size of $850.0 million aggregate principal amount of Convertible Notes. The Convertible Notes were priced at 100.000% of their principal amount. The company intends to use a portion of the net proceeds from the Convertible Notes offering to fund the cost of entering into the capped call transactions described below. The company intends to use the remainder of the net proceeds from the Convertible Notes offering to effect the repurchase of a portion of its 2.5% convertible senior notes due 2023 (the “existing convertible notes”), to pay related fees and expenses and for general corporate purposes, which may include the repayment or repurchase of certain of its outstanding indebtedness.

The Convertible Notes will have an initial conversion rate of 9.2259 shares of the company’s common stock per $1,000 principal amount of the Convertible Notes (equivalent to an initial conversion price of approximately $108.39 per share of the company’s common stock). The initial conversion price represents a premium of 50.0% to the $72.26 per share closing price of the company’s common stock on The New York Stock Exchange on January 9, 2023.

In connection with the Convertible Notes offering, the company granted the initial purchasers the right to purchase, for settlement within a 13-day period beginning on, and including, the date the Convertible Notes are first issued, up to an additional $100.0 million aggregate principal amount of Convertible Notes. If the initial purchasers exercise their option to purchase additional Convertible Notes, then the company intends to use a portion of the additional net proceeds to fund the cost of entering into additional capped call transactions as described below.

The initial closing date of the Convertible Notes offering is expected to occur on January 12, 2023.

The Convertible Notes will accrue interest at a rate of 3.125% per annum, payable semi-annually in arrears on January 15 and July 15 of each year, beginning on July 15, 2023. The Convertible Notes will mature on January 15, 2029, unless repurchased, redeemed or converted in accordance with their terms prior to such date. Prior to the close of business on the business day immediately preceding October 15, 2028, the Convertible Notes will be convertible only upon satisfaction of certain conditions and during certain periods; thereafter, the Convertible Notes will be convertible at any time until the close of business on the second scheduled trading day immediately preceding the maturity date. Upon conversion, holders of the Convertible Notes will receive shares of the company's common stock, cash or a combination thereof, at the company's election. Holders of the Convertible Notes will have the right to require the company to repurchase all or a portion of their Convertible Notes at 100% of their principal, plus any accrued and unpaid interest, upon the occurrence of certain corporate events constituting a "fundamental change" as defined in the indenture for the Convertible Notes. The company may not redeem the Convertible Notes prior to January 21, 2026. The company may redeem for cash all or any portion of the Convertible Notes, at its option, on a redemption date occurring on or after January 21, 2026 and before the 41st scheduled trading day before the maturity date, but only if the last reported sale price of the company's common stock has been at least 130% of the conversion price then in effect for a specified period of time. The redemption price will equal 100% of the principal amount of the Convertible Notes to be redeemed, plus any accrued and unpaid interest to, but excluding, the redemption date.

In connection with the pricing of the Convertible Notes, the company entered into privately negotiated capped call transactions with one or more of the initial purchasers or their affiliates and/or other financial institutions (the "option counterparties"). The capped call transactions will initially cover, subject to anti-dilution adjustments substantially similar to those applicable to the Convertible Notes, the number of shares of the company's common stock underlying the Convertible Notes. If the initial purchasers exercise their option to purchase additional Convertible Notes, the company expects to enter into additional capped call transactions with the option counterparties.

The cap price of the capped call transactions will initially be $144.52 per share, which represents a premium of 100% over the last reported sale price of the company's common stock of $72.26 per share on The New York Stock Exchange on January 9, 2023, and is subject to certain adjustments under the terms of the capped call transactions.

The capped call transactions are expected generally to reduce the potential dilution to the company's common stock upon any conversion of the Convertible Notes and/or offset any potential cash payments the company is required to make in excess of the principal amount of converted notes, as the case may be. If, however, the market price per share of the company's common stock, as measured under the terms of the capped call transactions, exceeds the cap price of the capped call transactions, there would nevertheless be dilution and/or there would not be an offset of such potential cash payments, in each case, to the extent that such market price exceeds the cap price of the capped call transactions.

In connection with establishing their initial hedges of the capped call transactions, the option counterparties or their respective affiliates expect to enter into various derivative transactions with respect to the company's common stock and/or purchase shares of the company's common stock concurrently with or shortly after the pricing of the Convertible Notes. This activity could increase (or reduce the size of any decrease in) the market price of the company's common stock or the Convertible Notes at that time.

In addition, the option counterparties or their respective affiliates may modify their hedge positions by entering into or unwinding various derivatives with respect to the company's common stock and/or purchasing or selling shares of the company's common stock or other securities of the company in secondary market transactions following the pricing of the Convertible Notes and prior to the maturity of the Convertible Notes (and (x) are likely to do so during any conversion reference period related to a conversion of the Convertible Notes or following any repurchase of the Convertible Notes by the company in connection with any fundamental change and (y) are likely to do so following any repurchase of the Convertible Notes by the company other than in connection with any fundamental change if the company elects to unwind a corresponding portion of the capped call transactions in connection with such repurchase). This activity could also cause or avoid an increase or decrease in the market price of the company's common stock or the Convertible Notes, which could affect the holders' ability to convert the Convertible Notes and, to the extent the activity occurs following conversion or during any conversion reference period related to a conversion of the Convertible Notes, it could affect the number of shares of the company's common stock and value of the consideration that holders will receive upon conversion of the Convertible Notes.

On January 9, 2023, the company agreed to repurchase approximately $440.0 million in aggregate principal amount of the existing convertible notes from a limited number of holders in privately negotiated transactions for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $489.3 million. The company expects that holders of the existing convertible notes that sell their existing convertible notes to the company in any note repurchase transaction described above may enter into or unwind various derivatives with respect to the company's common stock and/or purchase or sell shares of the company's common stock in the market to hedge their exposure in connection with these transactions. In particular, the company expects that many holders of the existing convertible notes employ a convertible arbitrage strategy with respect to the existing convertible notes and have a short position with respect to the company's common stock that they would close, through purchases of the company's common stock and/or the entry into or unwind of economically equivalent derivatives transactions with respect to the company's common stock, in connection with the company's repurchase of their existing convertible notes. The repurchase of the company's existing convertible notes, and the potential related market activities by holders of the existing convertible notes participating in the existing convertible notes repurchases, could increase (or reduce the size of any decrease in) or decrease (or reduce the size of any increase in) the market price of the company's common stock, which may affect the trading price of the Convertible Notes at that time and may have affected the initial conversion price of the Convertible Notes. The company cannot predict the magnitude of such market activity or the overall effect it will have on the price of the Convertible Notes or its common stock, or estimate the effect such market activity may have had on the initial conversion price of the Convertible Notes.

The Convertible Notes will be offered through a private placement and will not be registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), or any state securities laws. As a result, the Convertible Notes and any common stock issuable upon conversion of the Convertible Notes may not be offered or sold in the United States except pursuant to an applicable exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act. Accordingly, the Convertible Notes will be offered only to persons reasonably believed to be “qualified institutional buyers” under Rule 144A of the Securities Act. This news release is neither an offer to sell nor a solicitation of an offer to buy the Convertible Notes or any common stock issuable upon conversion of the Convertible Notes, nor shall there be any sale of any securities in any jurisdiction in which such offer, solicitation or sale would be unlawful.

Forward-Looking Statements

This news release contains forward-looking statements, including statements related to the offerings and the expected use of the net proceeds, which are based on current expectations, forecasts and assumptions that involve risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. These risks and uncertainties include, without limitation, risks related to whether the company will consummate the offering of the Convertible Notes on the expected terms, or at all, the effects of entering into the capped call transactions described above, market and other general economic conditions, and the fact that the company's management will have discretion in the use of the proceeds from the sale of the Convertible Notes. The company refers you to the documents it files with the Securities and Exchange Commission, specifically the section titled “Item 1A. Risk Factors” of its annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2021, which contains and identifies important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in the company's projections or forward-looking statements. LIVE NATION ENTERTAINMENT ANNOUNCES CLOSING OF
$1.0 BILLION 3.125% CONVERTIBLE SENIOR NOTES DUE 2029

LOS ANGELES – January 12, 2023 – Live Nation Entertainment, Inc. (NYSE: LYV) today announced the completion of its previously announced offering of $1.0 billion in aggregate principal amount of 3.125% convertible senior notes due 2029. The offering size was increased from the original offering size of $850.0 million aggregate principal amount of notes in response to investor demand and after full exercise of the “greenshoe” option.

“It’s incredible to see the confidence the market has in live entertainment and the future of Live Nation, with demand reaching almost five times that of our offering on very attractive terms,” said Michael Rapino, President and Chief Executive Officer of Live Nation Entertainment. “Our pipeline for 2023 remains strong and this added capital bolsters our already strong balance sheet as we continue to grow our business globally through acquisitions and investments.”

Proceeds from the transaction will be used to repurchase a portion of the company’s existing 2.5% convertible senior notes due March 2023, to pay related fees and expenses, to pay costs associated with capped call transactions entered into in connection with the offering, and for general corporate purposes, which may include the repayment or repurchase of certain of the company’s outstanding indebtedness. This offering enables Live Nation to minimize share dilution from the 2.5% convertible senior notes due March 2023, and the capped call transaction is designed to mitigate potential equity dilution and raise the conversion premium of the new convertible notes from 50% to 100%.
